BON APPETIT

22 year-old Sam Stern's recipe book inspires confidence in any cook – whatever level you're at! Sam (who wrote his first top selling book at 14) reveals the secrets to cooking with great flavour, teaches you classic skills and techniques and offers plenty of advice on cooking times, ways to properly season your food and choosing the right combinations of ingredients so you can create your own signature dishes. It's £18.99 hardback. quadrille.co.uk.

DESIGN VISION

If a minimalist look ticks the right box for you, take a look at Strass by Schmidt Kitchens. The five-piece doors are finished in a high quality highly reflective gloss lacquer to help bounce light around the room. Strass is available in White, Magnolia and the new shade Cloud. Kitchens start from £6,500. schmidt-kitchens.com.

Worth a visit

Celebrating its 35th anniversary Woodstock Furniture has revealed a newly refurbished and extended showroom. If you're looking for inspiration and traditionally-made ideas, all cabinetry and furniture is bespoke and designed and manufactured in the Hampshire workshop. Kitchens start from £30,000. ### Mirror, mirror

Marry industrial and chic together and what you get is a style that doesn't look set to get old any time soon. Translate this into your kitchen with the new Versailles Mesh tiles from Ann Sacks – they have a modern graphic element that adds a cutting edge feel. The artisan tiles are made using 18th century mirror-making techniques, and the random streaking and spotting is like that of aged mirror. In Dark Bronze, Mercury, Rose Butter and Silver Flake Rustic, they're from £1,143m<sup>2</sup>. annsacks.com.

Fancy a cuppa?

Do you know about tea etiquette? After stirring gently and noiselessly, a faux pas is to leave the spoon upright in your cup! Whether you're a tea, coffee or soup lover, Keir Townsend, has re-thought the teacup design, giving you a place to rest a spoon. Prices start from £11 for an Espresso gift boxed ceramic set of cup, saucer and spoon. keirtownsend.com.
